Hannah More School Foundation Names New Trustee

REISTERSTOWN, Md.—Hannah More School Foundation, which raises funds for Hannah More School, appointed Diane Glover to the foundation's board of trustees. Before she retired, Glover was the senior administrative project specialist for the dean of The Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Glover held positions with Johns Hopkins University for 33 years, including executive assistant to the dean and executive assistant to the senior associate dean for administration. She serves on the board of governors for the Johns Hopkins Club and chairs the membership committee. Prior to joining Johns Hopkins University, Glover worked for Commercial Credit Equipment Corporation for five years.

Among her community service activities, Glover is an advisory board member for the Theresa F. Truschel Charitable Foundation. She is a member of the Republican Women of Baltimore County and past member of the American Business Women's Association. In addition, Glover chaired event committees for Calvert Hall College High School and Mercy High School.

Glover earned her bachelor's degree in management from The Johns Hopkins University Evening College. She lives in Reisterstown, Md.

Hannah More School provides individualized academic, vocational and therapeutic programs to elementary, middle and high school students with disabilities, including emotional disturbance, autism, specific learning disabilities or health impairments, whose behaviors have hindered their ability to be successful in public school. The school is committed to providing programs in a nurturing and educationally challenging environment, so that students may develop the skills necessary to reach their greatest potential in an increasingly complex and culturally diverse society. Hannah More School's main campus is located at 12039 Reisterstown Road in Reisterstown, Md. For more information, please visit www.hannahmore.org or call the school at 410-526-5000.
